

Breigan Nycole Hamlet

April 1, 1994 - August 26, 2025

Breigan Nycole Hamlet, 31, of Huntington, West Virginia—though always a Texas girl at heart—passed away peacefully in the early morning hours of August 26, 2025, surrounded by her loved ones. During her short but meaningful time on this earth, Breigan wore many hats: daughter, sister, aunt, and friend. Yet nothing brought her more pride than being a mother. Her children were her world, and throughout her courageous battle with cancer, she fought every moment for them. Breigan is survived by her mother, Jennifer Gray, and stepfather, Thomas Gray (“Tommy Dad”); her sisters, Blayre Hinchman and Kennedy Hamlet; Brother in law Clay Hinchman and her three beloved children, Avery Chapman, Aspyn Killian, and August Hooten. She also leaves behind her nephew, Graysin Hinchman, and honorary niece, Alyson Chapman, as well as countless cousins, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and extended family who each played a role in shaping the remarkable person she became. She is preceded in death by her father, Kenneth Hamlet; daughter, Addley Killian; sister, Abyghail Hamlet; great-grandmother, Mary; and uncle, Garyc. Breigan will be remembered for her fierce love, her unshakable strength, and the way she lit up every room with her presence and unforgettable smile. Her legacy lives on through her children and the countless lives she touched. Bre’s memory will remain forever in the hearts of those who love her. “ I remember how you use to push me to be a more responsible man and inspired me to buy my first car. You always had such a strong head on your shoulders. I will never forget the beautiful times we had. You were my after high school sweet heart. We laughed together, cooked together and cried together. You will always hold a special place in my heart. Will miss you forever. And will stay praying for those beautiful babies and your precious family. Fly high my lil Breezy :(

“ Bre came into our lives and that of our son over six years ago. She was an amazing young woman, beautiful inside and out. She was a loving mother and a great step-daughter to our son Tom Gray. I know Bre is singing with the Angels in Heaven. We miss and love you Bre. Rest peacefully in God's loving arms.

“ My condolences to all of the family. Love you all. You knew Bre was in the presence of you with her loud contagious laugh and her sarcastic attitude or answers following every and all questions, and let’s not forget her wonderful (very iffy) dancing skills she portrayed. lol. Love you forever and ever , - “Kelly”
