“ Dear Jilen, you were my motivation, my shadow and my little brother. It hurts to see you go though the pain you went through and not reach out to your brother. I was there for you through thick and thin, from changing your diapers to showing you how to make a PlayStation account for your first ps4. I had so many plans for us in the future, every vision, every dream I had you were in it. You'll still be with me though it all but in spirit now. I'm happy you're not struggling anymore, I'm happy you're happy now too. Taking that walk with our dads and papa. I wish I spent more time with you and I wish you told me how you felt and what you were going through I really do. Sometimes I wish I didn't join the military so I could teach you how to be man, how to shave, how to talk to girls. If I didn't join I feel like I could've prevented this. But what's done is done. I love you alien head <3

“ Jilen I am sorry I didn't know you, but I am filled with grief of passing away. I will never know what positive contribution you would made to this world. But with that gentle looking smile I would predict you would have gone far. But with sadness I will never get to know. All I do know is that heaven gained a beautiful angel. Condolences to the. family. Family I will never fully understand the awesome amount of grief you're suffering. I am praying for your family consolation. May God keep his hand of peace and love throughout these difficult times.

“ I love you so so much. I am so thankful I was considered one of your best friends and you were considered one of mine. You were always there for me. I’m so thankful for the hugs and telling you I love you and telling you to sleep well. Thankful I got to tell you all those things. I’m so upset that you have moved into a better place but I’m so thankful you’re away from the pain. I love you so much and you’re forever miss deep in my heart. And when I get to heaven, I’ll make sure to look for you and give you the fattest hug.
