“ Dwain and Family,

My dad always enjoyed coming to the barber shop for a haircut and a visit. I'll always remember the times (even though your father was retired) that you would call your dad to come in and give dad a haircut. The tribute video in memory of your father was a nice tribute. Your dad was a special person. Keeping your family in prayer during this difficult time.

“ Larry Hamlin was my first regular barber. He was a master storyteller. I'll never forget the stories of his childhood and the troubles he would get into. His plan of the first purchase that he would make if he won the lottery was priceless. I can't print it here, but I laugh every time I think about it.

*I will miss you.

“ Our hearts are saddened by the passing of Larry. We (Fred) and Larry had many laughs in the Barbershop with all the many visits. He was a great Barber and a great friend. We brought our sons as toddlers to have their “first” Haircut and continued on. Yes, Larry and his humor will be missed.

“Larry sure was a lot of fun. My wife, Janet, and I were eating at Shoney’s once. Suddenly, this young man came to our table. He reached to shake hands with me, saying, “Hi, Mr. Thompson. How’re you doing? Remember me? You had me in school.” I was embarrassed, for I had no idea who this guy was. Then he said, “I know you remember my dad,” as he turned, pointing to Larry, standing across the room, laughing. He had put his son up to pretending he was one of my former students. Too, Larry always enjoyed coming to the 1961 Barboursville High Class Reunions with Kaye, even though he graduated from East. And we always enjoyed having him. Such good memories.
