“ “ANT” Linda, this picture was my last time with you. I am so grateful for the time that I was able to spend with you! I have so many happy memories of you. You always made me laugh. I will forever miss your sense of humor and your laugh! I’m going to miss you so much! I remember riding in the car with you, Mom, and Missy singing Chapel of Love at the top of our lungs(we were so happy). I loved dancing with you! You were the best Aunt and I’m going to miss you so very much!... until I see you again, your loving niece, Kimmy

“ When Sister Linda was very young, all us older kids were out in the front yard playing badminton; the birdie at some point landed on the roof behind the chimney; the roof came down pretty low to the ground there; so our oldest Brother, Rick, hoisted Linda up on the roof to retrieve the birdie which she did; and she threw it down to us; then they told Linda we can't get you down; You are gonna have to stay up there forever; well, she cried and cried and cried, thinking she's going to have to be up on that roof for the rest of her little life; oh, how we laughed; and then Brother Rick finally lifted her down from the roof, and she ran into the house screaming I'm gonna tell mommy on you all.

“ As children, my sis and I use to argue, fuss, and fight. Even as far as her saying: "MOM he's looking at me" or "Mom he touched me". I use to always tell her she was uglier than me and she would always say: "well mom always said we look alike"....lol Oh the memories. We came really close as we grew older and each of us loved the other dearly. Sister you will be loved and missed for a lifetime....so until we meet again...love love. Brother Mark

I surely do remember those memories you talk about here Brother Mark; a memory of mine is that when we were kids I came home from school one day and found that the hair on my doll had been all cut off; well, the guilty person of course was Sister Linda Lee, who was seven years younger than I; so I told mom she needed to be spanked, but mom didn't spank Linda saying she didn't mean to do it; well Sister Linda we have laughed about that for years and years after; yes, sister, there's so many more memories, loving memories, of you I remember; always loving memories they are; you will be ever forever missed and cherished in my heart; you were the very bestest Sister I could have ever had; Love, Love

My Aunt Lindee...oh how I loved you dearly. My memories go back to when Jen & I would watch Jon Anthony & Rick (take them to the pool while you worked). We stayed with you most Summers. You would stay up & watch Benny Hill with us. You always made us laugh til we peed. You were a large part of my life & super special to me. I already miss you so very much! I can hear you laughing & singing in Heaven & telling everyone "how pity" they look. You were a one of a kind. Until we meet again! I love you Forever & Always
