“ Though I did not know her well, Ms. Colleen makes an appearance in so many memories with my cousins. She often showed interest in me and my life, regardless of how far away I might be. She has never to my life been anything but kind and inquisitive. I know she was a model for many people, and she is missed.

“ Our prayers go out to the family and friends of Lois. She is the Grandma of our coworker Heather Jones, here at Sears in NC. Heather, I believe that you have inherited your Grandmas baking skills! You have always spoken lovingly of her and I'm sure she will be missed by all who know and love her. God Bless you all. Love From your family at Sears.

“ Where do I even begin to tell this family how much I'm going to miss Nanny?! She was one of the kindest, dearest, sweetest Christian ladies that God ever blessed me to meet! The times I was able to be to her house for youth activities and to share with the family are memories I will never forget. The most precious memory that I will hold on to is the one of her making my wedding dress for when Brian and I were married. She did such wonderful detailing on it and we had such fun times working with making sure it was exactly to detail how she knew it should be! Nanny I will always love you and miss you but I know that heaven has gained a precious angel ,and is now walking the streets of gold with our Lord and Savior! To her family, Brian and I have you in our prayers and love you all!

“ My prayers are with the family of my beloved friend, Colleen. We will all miss her immensely but the hole that will be left in our lives without here will be bottomless. She loved you all dearly and without condition. Please - as you mourn her loss, always remember that the Song of such a special person's life will never end as long as you share your special memories of her with each other and the world.

Wishing you comfort in knowing that you will always be able to hear the music, carry the tune, and pass on the lyrics of our dear Colleen's life melody.

I will always think of her when I make her zucchini cornbread and the other delicious recipes she has shared with me, or when I see the flowers blossoming from the seeds she shared with me. My heart aches for each of you. Know that you are ever in my prayers at this most difficult time. It seems the longer we live, the more we learn - yet no amount of experience really seems to come to our aid when we face the loss of one so dear to our hearts. May God Bless and Comfort you! We loved her too!

Sincerely,

Colleen's Friend - Sue Clark
