“ I met Marla 23 years ago in a chat room provided by Court TV. Our fascination over court cases is what drew us there, but it was the personal friendships we forged that kept us there. Facebook came along and we went along with it. But social media wasn't our only form of communication, we also made use of our phones. There were times we talked all night until the sun would begin to color the sky over our mountains.

I'm going to miss that girl. I know where she is and I know she was prepared to meet our Lord face to face. Oh what a glorious time that must have been.

Love ❤️ Your Friend, Cheryl
