“ A leaf has fallen from our family tree...

Since I was Stephanie's one and only sister-in-law, I wanted to give a little different perspective of my memories of a most talented, creative, grounded and knowledgeable woman.

Stephanie was two years behind me at Huntington East High School. So I have known her for over 50 years now.

She was a beautiful tall girl with long flowing dark hair. To me, in her younger years, I always thought of her as very quiet.

She was musically talented and professionally trained in playing the pedal Concert Harp.

She was always in demand to play at local concerts, events and weddings.

During her senior year she was invited to consider auditioning for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

She was also considered to demonstrate Harps for one of the top Harp manufacturers in the nation at that time.

She had a love for horses.

She also had a love for dogs as part of her family.

She enjoyed camping and being out in nature.

She enjoyed working with plants and flowers.

She raised her children to have a great respect for nature and the environment.

She could be funny and witty.

She had a wonder laugh.

She loved being able to relax on the porch of her homes.

She enjoyed telling the story of her encounter with a historical ghost at her CharlesTown, WV home.

She was a creative home decorator.

She loved to read and always wanted to be learning about new things.

She enjoyed living in Florida for a short time.

She enjoyed teaching her students at school and summer camps.

At Christmas she always led the Jones clan White Elephant Game.

There was so much fun and laughter.

And she always led the clan in Christmas Carols ending every Holiday get together with "The 12 Days of Christmas." It became a Holiday tradition.

She was a great cook.

Known for her pies. Especially her Rhubarb Pie.

And for all of the Jones family she was the best Deviled Egg maker in the whole world! She even tried to give away her recipe a few years ago but none of us would take it because we knew our end product would not come close to hers.

Above all she truly loved her children and grandchildren.

Enjoyed sharing her knowledge and wisdom of nature and animals with them so they too would grow up respecting our world.

Rest In Peace, Stephanie. You will be greatly missed!
