One of mine and Angie's best friends passed away last week. We are Truly missing you so much this week and it has been so hard on us. You were as close or closer than a brother. Always we kept in touch by text message or phone call everyday and you were always at our house and going places with us. The Day you died, we were suppose to have a steak and corn on the cob cookout in my backyard and you were looking so forward to that. Tommy we love you and me and angie did not want to lose you this soon in our life. We have so many memories with you and will cherish those memories forever as long as we are able to my brother in Christ. We also understand that here on earth we are not guaranteed another day and are just passing through this temporary place and are going to meet our Saviour Jesus Christ (Yeshua) our Salvation} face to face. Oh what a Great Day that will be! As the clock keeps on ticking, we all have an appointment with death, this mortal body will someday become immortal, and until we meet on the other side of this life, me and angie will miss and love you Tommy. Thank you for spending so much time with us. You were truly family Bro!
